State Co-eds Will Clash With Women Debators from Cal.
On Thursday, Oct. 10

TO EXCHANGE DEBATES

U. C. Women Will Clash With State Debate Team On
Following Day

The N.R.A.—that is the subject which will bother Katherine Hodges and Alice Culbertson when they meet two women debaters from the University of California next Tuesday, October 10, at 8 o'clock in the Little Theater. The first of a "double-header", this debate precedes by less than forty-eight hours San Jose's NRA parade, in which our students have been asked to participate.

On the following evening, October 11, Mae Wilburn and Grace Lepetich will journey to Berkeley for a forensic clash with two University of California co-eds.

Besides providing an excellent opportunity for students to learn what the principles of the NRA are, and how they are being put over, this debate is the first of a well-filled schedule for the year. Ralph Eckert of the Speech Arts Department is coaching our representatives for the great classic.

Kansas State Dean Honored Guest At Tea and Luncheon

Dr. Margaret M. Justin, dean of the Home Economics department of Kansas State college was the guest of honor at a formal luncheon on Wednesday, October 4, given by the homemaking department faculty, and served by student in the department under the direction of Miss Nevenzel.

The luncheon was a most delightful one, allowing Dr. Justin to meet members of the department whom she had known at Kansas State college, and other local department members as well. The tables were decorated by Miss Martha Thomas and Mrs. Ouida Mallett. Dr. Justin was also honored at a tea in the afternoon from three to five o'clock. Student representatives of the homemaking department organizations, members of Delta Nu Theta, students in residence at the apartment, and members of the homemaking graduating class, were guests during the first hour.

From four to five o'clock, Dr. Justin met members of the faculty of San Jose and their wives. Among the guests were Miss Bernice Budlong, Miss Hazel Melville, all of the city choirs, Miss Christine Zoffman, Dean Helen Dimmock, Dr. and Mrs. T. W. MacQuarrie, Dr. P. V. Peterson, Dr. Raymond Mosley, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Spaulding, Mrs. Ruth Turner, Miss Elizabeth Fox Arnold, Miss Lydia Innes, and members of the homemaking faculty.

S. B. Dance Today In Women's Gym

From four to six o'clock this afternoon the Women's gym will be the scene of the first afternoon dance of the fall quarter.

Charlie MacDonald's popular six piece orchestra has been secured for the occasion. Every student is invited to attend and enjoy himself, as only ten cents and a student body card is required for admittance.

The afternoon dance has proved very popular since its inauguration, occurring too late in the day to conflict with many classes, and yet too early to interfere with plans for the evening.

The dance as usual will be very informal; so come as you are and enjoy yourself.

JOSE W. STANLEY TALKS ON MEXICAN ART COLLECTIONS

Speaking of his experiences in collecting Mexican peasant art and coaching amateur athletics in Mexico, Dr. Jose W. Stanley will give a talk at the regular meeting of Skylight, Monday at 1 p.m. in Room 1 of the Art building. Jose Stanley was born in Santa Clara and received his education at the University of California and Cornell. For the past few years he has been in business in Mexico City, Mexico with his brother and sister.

The display cases in the downstairs hall of the Art building are showing some of Dr. Stanley's collection. Among the articles on display are serapes, Mexican blown glass, and embroideries.

The meeting will be free and all teachers, students, and their friends are invited to hear Dr. Stanley speak. Priscilla Broity will act as chairman.

Palace Hotel Rose Room Will Feature College Programs

With Tom Coakley and his Palace Hotel Orchestra as the initial drawing card, the famous Rose Room Bowl at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, once famous the world around, will re-open for dinner and dancing every night except Sunday, beginning this coming Friday night.

The Rose Room Bowl has been completely re-constructed and re-decorated under the supervision of one of San Francisco's leading artists-architects and presents the most beautiful setting imaginable for dinner dances and parties. The tables are arranged on terraces surrounding an oval dance floor.

Musical accompaniment will be supplied by Tom Coakley and his Palace Hotel Orchestra, with Carl Ravazza and Virginia Haig featured. Tom Coakley comes to the Palace after a most successful engagement at The Athens Club, Oakland, together with an enviable record of success at the Hotel Roosevelt, Hollywood. Tom Coakley's orchestra produced the first transcontinental dance orchestra program ever broadcast from the Eastbay, and has traveled with Dobbie through the Northwest and Canada, making personal appearances.

Friday nights in the Rose Room Bowl have been designated as College Nights. Special parties are now being arranged for the various "Big Game" and other football nights. Saturdays through the Fall, as has been the custom in previous years, the Rose Room Bowl is expected to be the mecca of celebrants from the San Jose campus, as well as a semi-official gathering place of alumni.

There will be dancing in the new Rose Room Bowl every evening except Sunday.

Notice

The Registrar's office wishes to inform all students that Friday, October 27, is the last day to drop courses.

State Hiking Club Will Hold Noon Meeting Today

The Hiking Club of San Jose State will meet in room 110 at 12:30 today, Friday, October 6. All those who are interested in taking Sunday hikes are invited to attend. At this, the first meeting of the quarter, a committee will be appointed to plan the Sunday hikes for this quarter.

Patriotic Spirit Urged by Prexy

Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie has requested that all students, faculty members, secretaries, and employees of the college march in the N.R.A. parade. This parade is to show the support of San Jose State College for the efforts of the President of the United States in putting over the N.R.A.

Watch the next issue of the Times for information relative to details of the parade.

Spartan Spears Sell Posies For Football Game

At the San Jose vs C.O.P. football game Oct. 14, the Spartan Spears will sell chrysanthemums and ponpons to the supporters of the respective teams. This is an innovation at San Jose, and it is expected that it will be well received by the students. Flowers in school colors will give truly "Big Game" atmosphere in our new stadium.

Spartan Spears is a comparatively posed of Sophomore girls who have a new organization on the campus, com-scholastic rating above the average and who have shown interest in school activities during their Freshman year. At present the group is composed of the old members and new pledges but at the end of the first six weeks of this quarter, the pledges will be formally initiated and will assume complete responsibility, when the old members will drop out of the organization completely.

The girls are now busy working on plans for organizing the NRA parade Oct. 12. Later they will be seen as volunteers for many service jobs as guides at Principals' and Home Making conventions, and served at the Home Coming Banquet, besides numerous other odd jobs. Those holding office now of the old members, are: Ray Dobyns, president; Louise Hocum, vice-president; Margaret Dumipace, secretary-treasurer; and Frances Boogart, reporter-historian.

VOICE OF STUDENT BODY GOES ON AIR FOR RADIO RALLY

Something new in the way of excitement is to happen in San Jose next week. The voice of the College Student Body goes on the air! The event is scheduled for Friday the 13th, but that's a lucky day for us anyway.

Here's the dope: Elmer Higgins has been appointed chairman of a Radio Pep Rally to be given over Station KQW on Friday from 8:30 to 9:00. Good music is to be furnished by the College Band and Glee Club, prominent members of the team are to give short talks, Dud DeGroot is to be interviewed, and the whole show promises to be a half hour of classy entertainment. The next day the Spartans play College of Pacific, and this rally should provide lots of the old spirit.

Do your part by listening in.

Miss Mabel Crumby Hostess To Co-eds At Dinner Party

About forty Kindergarten-Primary and Combination girls attended an informal dinner and get-together at the home of Miss Mabel Crumby, faculty advisor, on Monday evening. This was the first of a series of monthly entertainments planned by the group.

The Kindergarten-Primary department student personnel has been divided alphabetically into four sections, headed by Mrs. Elizabeth Walsh, Miss Emily DeVore, Mrs. Elizabeth Gray, and Miss Mabel Crumby, respectively. Each group will entertain once a month for two months. Miss Crumby's group having selected October and November. Girls on Miss DeVore's list will entertain next, followed by Mrs. Gray's group, with Mrs. Walsh's section closing the season.

Guests furnished fruit and sandwiches for Monday's dinner, the main dish having been prepared by Catherine Cook and Elizabeth Bruening. Shopping was done by Elizabeth Bentley and Mary Dyer. In charge of entertainment for the evening were Betty Brown and Lois Andrews.

Another State Tradition

For all those students, especially the newcomers who have not as yet become thoroughly acquainted with the many functions at State, to whom Wednesday noon is only the middle of the week, may we suggest a visit to the All College Chapel?

Beginning its third year of usefulness, the restful mid-day service has become a tradition, and the many tasks of the busy day disappear during the inspiring fifteen minutes arranged for the benefit of all students by a conscientious committee.

Members of the Music Department graciously provide appropriate music for the occasion, and lend an atmosphere of peace and relaxation to the spiritual setting.

Speakers chosen to appear on the program are carefully selected for their adaptability to the occasion, and as a result, the messages prepared for the students usually entertain a keen sympathy and note of understanding of their needs.

The committees in charge of the All College Chapel services have gone to much effort in planning a valuable program for the benefit of all students, regardless of faith or denomination. We are grateful for their interest in our behalf, and urge everyone to take advantage of the Wednesday noon period of rest.

Plan to attend next week, and once a member of the group, you will arrange to attend every week.

Old Magazines Are Needed For Detention Home

Old magazines are urgently needed for the boys' detention home, says Gus Standish of the College YMCA. Popular Science, Popular Mechanics, Boys' Life, Nature Magazines, and American Boy are the magazines that these boys want to read.

The department of detention home work of the YMCA hasn't any money at present, for their expenses will not be budgeted until that time. Therefore they can't purchase any magazines for the boys.

If you have any of these magazines, please leave them with Gus Standish at the College Y Office, or during the noon hour you may leave them at the Times Office.

Fewer Stanford Men Enroll For Studies In Autumn Quarter

At the close of the registration period at Stanford, a total of 3287 students had enrolled, an increase of 207 over the 3080 total for the same period of 1932's autumn quarter. Of these 3287, 2922 had completed their registration, while the remaining 365 had started their enrollment process.

There will apparently be fewer men students than a year ago, but the removal of the "500" limit for women students is expected to push Stanford's registration for this autumn quarter up to a final figure of around 3400, compared to a grand total of 3233 for last year.

The expected 2400 total will come from students who are late in returning or entering Stanford.

Student Affairs Committee Named

Student Affairs Chairman, Ambrose Nichols, announces his committee for the quarter to be as follows:

Music Fraternity Entertains Tonight

The Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity of America is to present its annual national Founder's day program, Friday evening, Oct. 6, at 8:15. Admission is free and the program will be in the Little Theater, open to the public.

The program, in charge of Ed Brown, will consist of a vocal solo by Charles Hansen, Men's Glee Club director; a piano solo by William Erickson of the San Jose Music Department faculty; a violin solo by Frank Triana, well known college musician; and a clarinet trio by Thomas Eagan, also of the college faculty. Russell Bacher and Fred King students.

The program is a sort of birthday party for the organization—its thirty-five birthday.

Appointments For Pictures and
Applications For Staff
Start Today

The 1934 La Torre takes its first bow this year with the announcement by Ray Rhodes, editor and Russell Rankin, business manager, that all contracts pertaining to the year book have been signed. The work of photographing the hundreds of students, and faculty members who will appear in the annual will begin immediately in the Peter Pavley Studios. Mr. Pavley, who did the photographic work last year, is a specialist in athletic pictures as well as portraits, and it is certain that the athletic section will be an exceptional one.

Picture appointments may be made in the La Torre office beginning Friday afternoon. Students whose pictures will appear in the Annual are urged to make their appointments at once in order that the work of editing the book may begin at once.

The editor has not as yet chosen his staff, and all persons interested in applying for staff positions are requested to attend a meeting at 12:30 today, Oct. 6, in the La Torre office.

Musical Half Hour To Feature Pianist With Dr. Kaucher

Dr. Dorothy Kaucher will give several readings and Miss Margaret Hughes will play a number of piano solos on the first program of the Musical Half Hour today at 12:30.

Dr. Kaucher is associate professor in the Speech Arts department. Prior to her teaching at San Jose State she taught at Cornell. One of her hobbies is to help unknown writers of the world to recognition. On her program today she will read several of Hal MacChesney's works which have never been produced. Mr. MacChesney is a poet of California and several of the poems Dr. Kaucher will read are based on the author's experiences at Asilomar and Carmel. Dr. Kaucher has appeared before on Musical Half Hour and her work has always been appreciated.

Miss Hughes is a junior at San Jose State and is one of the school's talented musicians. She will introduce today's program and will conclude it.

Sappho's Open Fall Rushing With Tea

Entertaining at a formal tea at the home of Miss Betty Collins, Wednesday, September 26, members of the Sappho society formally opened their fall rushing season.

Miss Hansen and Miss Thompson presided during the afternoon, while Mrs. Walsh relieved the duties as emcee. Refreshments furnished by the members of the society.

The San Jose Country Club was the scene of a dinner given by the Sappho society, and the most for decoration and service were presented to the ladies.

E. Guy Talbot Will Speak On War and Peace Sunday

"The Cost of War and the Price of Peace" will be the title of an address to be given by E. Guy Talbot Sunday in the Little Theater at 4 p.m. Admission is free and all students, teachers, and friends are urged to make use of the opportunity to hear Mr. Talbot speak.

SPARTAN SPASMS

By
MURDOCK & BISHOP

San Jose State is not the kind of a ball club that runs up big scores against supposedly weak teams. Explain it as you will, but the record books bear us out.

Last year San Francisco State and Marin Jaycees were considered the "breathers" in the schedule. All the vaunted Conference Champions could do was defeat these then lowly teams 19-0 and 24-7 respectively after pushing them all over the field.

This year the locals have shown little of the zip and dash that won them the championship and are in addition in a doubtful mental and physical condition. What will be the outcome of such a set-up? Tomorrow's game will tell. It will be the barometer by which we can judge whether the Spartans are on their way up or still going down.

The Frosh have a "Notre Dame" complex this year, in the fact that the first string is from scattered precincts throughout and outside of California. The eleven first stringers represent eight different towns.

The boy with the greatest reputation and the long-distance home is Swartzell of Indiana, a protégé of Howard Wulfin, varsity quarterback. Swartzell looks to be the goods and gave the varsity line a severe buffeting during the first scrimmage.

At guards, Blesh has Cannell of Mission Hills of San Francisco, an All-City product and Vorrath of Mountain View, another Valley League bash.

The tackle positions are held down by Dailey of Los Gatos and Schofield of the local high school. Dailey is the pride of the first name of this column—he's good. Schofield had quite a reputation in P.A.L. circles.

At the ends of the line Ledyard of San Jose High, and Eckardt of San Leandro are present first string nominees. Both were considered outstanding in their respective leagues, and should give the opposing backfields many tough moments.

Carpenter of Paso Robles is holding down the quarterback job on the first year team and looks good. He should be good—look where he comes from.

The two halves are Souza of San Leandro and Rose of Watsonville. Souza is the streak of the Alameda league and should go like a million for Blesh's charges. Rose packs close to 200 pounds on his ample frame. The Watsonville lad gave the varsity some tough workouts during spring practice.

The fullback spot is well covered by Glenn DuBose, versatile griddler, representing Mission Hills along with Cannell. DuBose can kick with the best of the punters in this section, is fast, can pass, and Blesh can shift him into the line on defense. A very valuable man, this Mr. DuBose.

The first game of the season for these Freshmen will be with the Monterey Presidio as a preliminary game, Saturday at 12. The soldiers are a tough lot, but the Frosh claim they're tougher. Well, we'll see.

John Hines lost no time in getting his free shave and haircut from a local barber shop for scoring the first San Jose touchdown Saturday. My John, but you do look spiffy.

Casualties from the Panther debacle were "Dee" Shekhanian, who is still bothered with a bum hip and Burt Watson, who suffered a kidney injury. The two boys are expected to be in shape for the S. F. State game.

DeGroot's Gridders Injured On Eve Of San Francisco State Game In Stadium Tomorrow

By Gil Bishop

With the last game before the opening of the Conference schedule next week coming up tomorrow afternoon with the gridders of San Francisco State, Coaches Dud DeGroot and Bill Hubbard are faced with the ominous fact that the so-called first string is sorely torn apart by injuries.

Scrimmage with the Frosh Wednesday afternoon added two to the already long roll of injured when Wulfin, hard driving quarterback, injured his shoulder and Jerry Whitaker, the veteran center suffered a smashed nose. Probably neither will see action Saturday afternoon. It's a well known fact that DeGroot hates to take the injuries as an alibi—but the Spartans swear there will be no need for an alibi Saturday night after the game. Gone are the lackadaisical days of carefreeness and overconfidence. The Staters have been shown that there are no setups on the 1933 schedule, and they are out to play football from now on.

STARTING LINEUPS

DeGroot will probably start Ralph Meyers in place of Whitaker in the center of the line Saturday. Meyers has all the qualifications of a good center except experience.

The old standbys, Collins and Sandholt will be in the guard spots. Both boys have been playing the best of the spotted line performances that have been turned in by the Spartan forward wall this season and it should be a tough day for the Gator backs.

San Jose	San Francisco
Hubbard	R.E.L. Simon
Hardiman	R.T.L. Jones
Collins	R.G.L. Furst
Meyers	L.G.R. Rudd
Sandholt	C. Ridge
Saunders	L.T.R. Drysdale
Laughlin	L.E.R. Nolan
Corbella	Q. Applebaum
Arjo	R.H.L. Nathan
Pura	L.H.R. Donnell
Hines	F. Krieger

At tackles, Harry Hardiman and Fred Saunders will open the game in place of Dario Simoni and "Moose" Buehler. Simoni is out with intestinal disorders (to quote the Mercury) while Buehler is down with a touch of the flu. Both boys have looked good in scrimmage this week and should give the up-peninsula team more than they can handle.

Horace Laughlin will probably start at one end with either Jennings or Captain Bud Hubbard at the other end. Laughlin has taken up where he left off in 1932 and has been playing a stellar game at the wing position. Hubbard has yet to show the form which gained him the undisputed All-Conference position last year, but DeGroot is banking on him to come through when the fire gets heavier. Jennings is another boy who lacks just one thing—experience.

THE BACKFIELD

"Sarge" Corbella, the 235 pounder will be in the game at quarter, with either Bennett or Pura at left half, and Arjo or McLachlin at the other half-back. Johnny Hines will fill the quarter at fullback. Bennett has looked exceedingly good in scrimmage and "Frisbie" Freddie may be the answer to DeGroot's prayer for an offensive player.

Hines will do the kicking, passing, and part of the ball-packing Saturday, and if he settles down to work—it'll be a tough day for the Cox tacklers.

Speaking of this Cox person. That's Dave Cox, former celebrated S. F. high school coach, who seems to be bringing the San Francisco contingent up into higher realms of football prestige.

SPARTAN YEARLINGS TO PLAY WITH MONTEREY PRESIDIO IN FIRST TILT

At 12:00 noon, tomorrow, Coach Erwin Blesh's Spartan Babes will take the field in a preliminary contest against a team from the Presidio at Monterey, and that will be somepin'. We don't know much about the soldiers, but there are various rumors, if rumor can be considered, that they are plenty good in more ways than one. They are supposed to have weight as well as extensive experience. In other words a certain per cent of them are, or were members of the now defunct West Coast Army team. Last we forget, the West Coast Army was not bad at all, no sir, and many of their games were in big time. So if what we hear is true, the Frosh are in for a busy day. However, Blesh plans to shoot everything he has, and that isn't to be taken lightly either. He has weight, and he has speed. He has a triple threat man in this boy Willis who plays at the full-back position, and the quarterback spot is in dispute between Carpenter and Sanders, both boys showing up well and little difference between them. It is simply a toss-up as to who will start tomorrow's game, but both will undoubtedly see action. Rose and Peach are all set in their left half position. Rose is a heavy man and a hard hitter, and he should be one of the mainstays against the soldiers. Peach is showing so well at the same spot that he may be shifted to the right half position on the first string with Rose. Both Souza and Cammack will be all set to go at the left half.

Blesh has some outstanding men in the line that will prove valuable against the heavy presidio outfit, and they are all in fair condition except Vorrath at guard. Swartzell and Locher will work in at the pivot spot, while bolstering the line will be Cannell, Dunlap, Rice, and Vorrath, providing the latter's leg is better. Scofield, Daily and Maynard, all big lads, will reinforce the line at tackles, while Ledyard, Schards, Hollis and Sherwin are outstanding at the wings. DuBose and Lepurin will most likely be called on to enter the fray and as both boys handle the fullback position well they can be counted on to come through.

According to Coach Blesh, his starting lineup will look something like this, but subject to change.

Center—Swartzell.
Right Guard—DuBose.
Right Tackle—Daily.
Right End—Eckardt.
Right Half—Rose.
Quarter—Carpenter or Sanders.
Fullback—Willis.

This will be the Babes first game, but they have had two weeks of hard practice and numerous scrimmages between themselves, and also with the varsity.

Stagg's Tigers Are Ready for Modesto J. C. Tilt Tonight

With spirits high after its 3-0 victory over the Cal Ramblers last Friday night the College of Pacific eleven settled down to practice today in an effort to round out its running attack. This phase of the Bengal offense has been very inadequate in the past two games and Coach A. A. Stagg is determined to make it go tonight when his men bump up against the Modesto Junior College men.

According to word received from the Modesto camp the J. C. men are out to make this their game of the year. Pacific happens to be the only four year school on their schedule, excepting San Francisco State, and it is the unifying wish of the Panthers to register a win over a four year school of major importance.

They have been pointing for this game since last fall and have been perfecting their attack with the idea of founding one off Pacific's unimpressive chin.

Spartans, Gaters Ready For Grid Battle

SAN FRANCISCO GATORS BRING VETERAN SQUAD FOR DO OR DIE CONTEST

Everything to gain and nothing to lose! It's a time-worn phrase in football circles, but it applies perfectly to the frame of mind which Coach Dave Cox's San Francisco State "Gators" will be in when they invade San Jose State's new Stadium tomorrow afternoon.

With the major part of an unsuccessful season behind them, the "Gators" are determined to "shoot the works" in an effort to atone for their past reverses by dumping San Jose's Spartans, whose reputation was once something, but who have fallen greatly from grace since being beaten by a mere Junior College.

S. F. BACKFIELD STRONG

The strongest part of the invading team is the backfield. In Ted Kreiger at fullback and Ralph Nathan and George Donnell at halfbacks, the "Gators" have a trio of experienced and capable men. Kreiger is a good line plunger and also a good defensive man. Nathan is the team's main threat as an open field runner as well as being its best passer while Donnell ranks as one of the best punters on the coast. He averages nearly 45 yards per game on his punts, and against Modesto he got off a punt that traveled nearly 70 yards.

Backing up Kreiger at fullback is Paul Gschwend while Ed Donohue, Harold Al Tye, Archie Heckman, George Rodanoff, Leonard Christensen, and Harry Applebaum complete the backbone of halfbacks.

Then Kreiger holds down the first string quarterback position backed up by Ed Saadallah.

LINE LIGHT BUT EXPERIENCED

A light but experienced line features Walter Nolan and Ralph Simon at the ends reinforced by John Arlington, Harvey Williams, Vernon Whitney, and Ray Kaufman. Nolan weighs a 192 and Simon a 180.

Leading the tackles is Walt Drysdale, a 198 pound six footer who is reputed to be the star of the Teachers' line.

Teamed with him is Owen Jones who tips the beams at 190. In support are Ray Allee, Charles Eade, and Jim Morton.

The first string guards are Al Furst and Harry Ridge, neither of whom touches 170 pounds. John Clifford, Bill Aubel, Richard Curtis, and Fred Esteban make up the reserve strength in this position.

The first string center is Rudolph Rudd who weighs 185 pounds and who has had two years of experience at San Francisco. Clinton Purcell, a 165 pounder is held in reserve for the pivot post.

RESERVES WEAK

The "Gators" have a capable first string, but their reserve material is weak and injuries render the team far below par. However, it is expected that the first string will be ready to go Saturday which bodes ill for the Spartans.

Last night the varsity, minus the services of Taylor, Cleo, Graff, Hayes and Mengel, failed to score on a combined second and third string. But then goalie Leland had a good sleep in front of the varsity net.

SOCCER TEAM TO MEET STANFORD TOMORROW

Saturday morning the camp ground of the Stanford Indian will ring with warwhoop and battle cry, as the Spartans battle the Red Horde in a fight to the finish. Soccer will be the medium for the battle, and plenty of blood will be shed if previous games are any indication.

The victory will enter the battle in better condition and should emerge victorious. Only a great defense can overcome the disadvantage of but one week of practice for the Cards.

But condition or no condition, these Indians will fight to the end. So will the Spartans, in take your choice for the ultimate winner.

These men, with the exception of Higgins, are experienced players, and that plus better condition, may swing the victory to San Jose.

The forward line has been shaken up

San Francisco Scribe Gives Views On Tomorrow's Game

October 4, 1933
Mr. Steve Murdoch,
Sports Editor,
State College Times.

Dear Steve:

Hello, Steve. What do you think of your football team now? Frankly, San Jose seems to be over-rated. At least, the Spartans have not displayed any of their championship ability. Maybe it will be a different story Saturday when they meet San Francisco State.

We are looking forward to a close battle despite the fact that San Jose has a heavier, more powerful team than San Francisco. The return of four veterans to our lineup gives us a fighting chance. Harry Ridge, running guard; Rudy Rudd, center; Archie Heckman, halfback, and Ed Saadallah, quarterback, are all back in harness and should strengthen the Gater team considerably.

Coach Dave Cox has made two changes in the Golden Gater lineup this week which may have some bearing on the outcome of the coming game. Ray Kaufman, an end, has been shifted to fullback on account of his defensive ability, and Saadallah, former quarterback, will play left end.

Coach Cox issued the following probable starting lineup Monday: Simon and Nolan, ends; Drysdale and Jones, tackles; Furst and Ridge, guards; Rudd, center; Applebaum, quarterback; Nathan and Donnell, halfbacks, and Gschwend, Krieger, or Kaufman, fullback.

You remember that Cox started a second string last season against San Jose; that is practically impossible this year. We have only one team, and any substitution that is made weakens our attack.

The State team averages 175 pounds per man. The line is our heaviest unit averaging close to 180 pounds. Some of the stars on the forward wall are Nolan and Simon, ends; Drysdale and Jones, tackles, and Ridge, guard. The extremes are exceptionally good, and may give Hubbard and Laughlin a close battle. The outstanding performers in our backfield are George Donnell and Ralph Nathan, halfbacks. Both men possess triple threat ability. Donnell is the best punter on our squad, and Nathan is a first class passer.

I'll see you at the game.
Harold Martin,
Publicity Manager, S. F. State.

Blocking Half

George MacLachlin, dynamic right halfback, who will probably be in the starting lineup for the Spartan-Gator battle in the new Stadium. "Toby" has been showing well in the practice sessions and early season games.

Varsity Men! Win Prize—Forget New Price Increase

A free hair-cut and shave is being offered to the San Jose man who makes the first Spartan touchdown in each of the varsity's games this year by the Club Barber Shop on South Second street. Johnny Hines has already collected for the Sacramento game and is said to look handsomer than ever.

Just Among Ourselves

Some people who should not be reading this column may be doing it, and I suspect that some who should read it in order to insure proper synchronization are not willing to spend the time on it. In any case, the matter I have to refer to at this time is of such importance that I hope all college people will take the time to glance over it.

The N.R.A. parade will be held next Thursday afternoon, starting at two o'clock. Students, faculty, office people, custodians, every one connected with the college, should be in line. There will be no afternoon classes.

I can hear somebody saying, "Why?" Just this: Economic conditions in the U.S.A. at this present moment are bad. The N.R.A. is a serious attempt to better the situation. Our President has shown magnificent courage in his campaign, and he now needs our help. He's not afraid of the big, bad wolf, and the least we can do is to show our confidence in him and support his program.

I know some of us don't want to march in any parade. (I'm afraid I don't myself). The fact is, however, that many of us don't want to do anything, especially when it comes to a general community project.

But this is no time for kicking. It's the time to boost. Put it down as a duty if you wish. Just say, "I guess I can help President Roosevelt for a total of two hours during his administration and not be so badly inconvenienced as to cause it to impair my health or wash out what I call my personality."

Anyway, this is not a common parade. It may even be fun to take part in it, and any one who remains out will certainly be lonesome. If plans materialize and every live resident of this community marches in the parade, there will be no one on the side lines to look at us. That certainly would be a unique parade, something you could tell your children about fifty years from now.

We should have 2500 people in line. We're going to form on our front campus and march ten abreast. The route will be less than eight blocks long. Perhaps the heels should not be too high, but in any case the effort need not be great. The college band will lead, and the football squads in uniform might well bring up the rear. A pillar of cloud by day, a pillar of fire by night. Take your choice.

We don't need to dress up, but it may be well to wear college colors, or some such distinguishing mark. We'll have a sign or two. The impressive thing, however, will be 2500 people in one solid mass, marching to show their appreciation of a valiant, national leader, a man of magnificent courage, a fighter whose back at just this moment is uncomfortably close to the wall. Neil Thomas, Spartan Knights, and Spartan Spears will have charge of arrangements.

You'll find, young people, when you start out to battle greed, particularly of the entrenched, racketeering variety, the kind that is unconcerned about any damage or loss just so long as its own private demands are served, you'll find that you can't do it alone, and that's just President Roosevelt's situation at this time. He needs our help, and we certainly need him. As a matter of fact, the old U. S. A. needs a show of force on the part of all patriotic people. If this little parade will help, let's put it over. I'm expecting every one of you to come up to the scratch on next Thursday afternoon. It's a bit of a crisis, and a time for us to show our quality.

Anyhow. It's 'Oquake Evidence

Searchers hurried about town in an effort to find photographic evidence of an earthquake in Los Angeles the other morning, and the above picture is the result. The "minor" temblor, which awakened thousands and sent them tumbling from their beds, tore chunks of masonry from a partially-raised police station and dropped them on the parked car above.

SOCIAL EVENTS

NAGLEE PARK HOME IS CHARMING SETTING FOR QUIET WEDDING

Miss Frances O'Keefe became the bride of Charles S. Allen, Jr. at a simple ceremony at her home in Naglee Park at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, October 4. The young couple were unattended and only members of the immediate family were present. Right Rev. Richard Collins of San Francisco, former pastor of St. Patrick's Church of this city, and a friend of the O'Keefe family for many years, performed the sacred rites.

The bride, who is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Keefe was given in marriage by her father. She wore a smart suit of blue with harmonizing accessories. Mrs. Allen is one of the most popular members of the younger set, and much entertaining has been done to compliment her since the announcement of the betrothal. She graduated from Notre Dame School and later attended San Jose State college, where she was affiliated with Sappho society. She is an ardent golfer and active in the affairs of the San Jose Country Club.

Mr. Allen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Allen, Sr., attending the University of California, later taking up his studies at the Stanford University from which he was graduated. His fraternity is the Delta Tau Delta.

Following the ceremony and nuptial breakfast Mr. Allen and his bride departed on a honeymoon which is to be an extended motor trip. An apartment at the Villa Saroni awaits their return.

New Homemaking Students Will Meet

There will be a meeting of the club for new Home-Making students Tuesday, Oct. 10 at 11 o'clock in Room 17 of the Home-Making Building. All Freshmen and transfer students whether Major, Minors, or Technicals in Home-Making are eligible for membership. Further plans for the organization will be discussed at this meeting.

Will Preside

Connie Knudsen, attractive State College maid, who will preside tonight at the Beta Gamma Chi rush party given at the lovely Redwood City home of Lucille Moore.

Pasadena Girl Weds Campbell Student In Southern Church

Miss Madeline Spich of South Pasadena became the bride of John Lynden of Campbell last week at a lovely ceremony in St. James Church at Los Angeles.

Miss Spich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Spich of South Pasadena, is a graduate of Stanford, '33, and was very prominent in campus activities. Her sorority was Kappa Alpha Theta.

Mr. Lynden, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Lynden of Campbell, was graduated from Stanford with the class of '31, where he is working towards his M. A. degree. He also attended San Jose State college and was well known on the local campus.

BENEVOLENCE HOME TO SPONSOR FASHION SHOW, TEA, OCT. 7

The bridge tea and fashion show to be given by the directors of the Home of Benevolence, Saturday, October 7, at the E. O. and J. O. Hayes estate in Edenvale will mark the important social function of the week.

Activities will get under way at 1:30 o'clock, and among those serving as mannequins will be a number of the directors and their friends. Miss Helen McDaniels and Miss Betty O'Brien, students at San Jose State college will also act as models.

The candies for sale are being made and donated by girls of the San Jose High School and San Jose State college, and these girls will also attend to their distribution. For those desiring to present candy for prizes, the girls will wrap boxes attractively for that purpose. Director Mrs. Pearl Gosbey is in charge of this sale.

Reservations, which are under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frazier O. Reed, may still be had, and those having tables are requested to supply their own cards and scores.

The fashion revue is to be presented under the direction of Mrs. Peter Andrew Jordan. Mrs. Willis Sherman Clayton Sr. is president of the Home of Benevolence. The interest of the community is keen to help this worthy charity, which is for children, and is non-sectarian.

Linen Shower Given Popular State Maid

Miss Roberta Littler was the guest of honor at a linen shower given her by Miss Wilma Secrest on Friday evening, September 29, in the home-making department of the San Jose State College. Miss Littler's marriage to Loyce Heverin will be an event of next month.

Friends of Miss Littler who attended the shower were Misses Frances Conkey, Verna Holbeck, Margaret Boies,

THE WORLD AT LARGE

by Harry Hawes

A vigorous campaign of advertising to put Australia before the American people is now under way. The new advertising will be designed to show the attractions of Australia to prospective American tourists and to make the British colony a possible business partner with us in the Pacific trade.

This move with Australia will make our position in the Pacific more secure, and if that long talked of war with Japan should ever come we will have a strong ally.

The spirit of the old Vigilante days returned again when 300 Lodi ranchers joined forces and drove a regiment of striking vineyard workers out of town. Snarling strike leaders were marched down the streets at double quick time. Weary of bickering for weeks with the strikers, the ranchers rose to action and broke up the strike themselves. It's too bad that more people don't have this same spirit. Perhaps we wouldn't have so many Red agitators bothering us.

The carelessness of a cigarette smoker has cost the lives of over fifty unemployed workers when he inadvertently tossed his lighted cigarette into some brush, starting the Griffith Park holocaust. Nearly 200 men were badly burned. When will smokers learn that it is dangerous to throw burning cigarettes into dry brush? If people could see the horror of a roaring forest fire as it roars down one side of a canyon and up the other, as I have, they would think a long while before throwing carelessly aside matches and cigarettes that aren't completely out.

With Virginia, the 32nd state to vote for repeal, it looks as if it won't be long before the 18th Amendment will cease to exist. The drys on the whole are behaving very admirably in their losing battle. When one sees that popular opinion is against him it does no good to try to revive a lost cause. One good thing that ought to come from repeal should be the slackening of drinking among the high school set. Getting drunk is no longer being considered big, bad, and bold.

WHEN DEATH DROVE WIND IN LOS ANGELES PARK HOLOCAUST

A probably never-to-be determined number of Los Angeles county relief workers—but known to be in excess of 35—fell in the path of raging flames in Griffith Park, Los Angeles, Tuesday evening when a carelessly dropped cigaret turned a box-like canyon into a raging inferno. Above photo, taken in Mineral Wells canyon, after the blaze had leveled everything in its path, shows where one group of workmen were trapped by the racing flames.
